

Roberto Zafalon CV

Dr. Roberto Zafalon is EU Technology Programmes Director - Italy, in charge to foster and leverage the link between ST technology groups and the R&D cooperative EU programs. at STMicroelectronics, Agrate Brianza (Milano), Italy.

In his current capacity since July 2007, he elaborates the vision and roadmap, seeks for project financing and drives industrial R&D teams to pursue innovative solutions in the field of embedded systems and nanoelectronics, for corporate product divisions and labs. He is with STMicroelectronics (one of world's top 5 semiconductor firms) since 25 years. He is Steering Board member of ARTEMIS-IA and EPOSS (the European Technology Platform on Smart Systems Integration) and member of AENEAS working groups. He currently is, and has been in the past, General Project Manager and Coordinator of major Integrated Projects under FP6, FP7 and JTI calls 2009-2013, including KET Pilot Lines. He has been selected by FP7-ICT and ARTEMIS JU as independent expert to review the project submitted to some past calls.